Today We're going to talk about 3 things:

- > What is Sexting?
- > Why is Sexting Dangerous?
- What Can Parents Do to Protect Kids?

Why is Sexting Dangerous?

- Sexting can lead to bullying, blackmail, and even jail time
- Sexting can open the door to sexual predators
- Sexting can (and often does) cause shame and destroy opportunities

What can we do?

- Talk with your kids!
 - Not once, but MANY TIMES!
- Encourage them to ask:
 - Is this how I want people to see me?
 Could somebody use this to hurt me?
 Would I be upset if they shared it with others?
 - 4. What is the worst thing that could happen if I shared this?

What can we do?

- Help your kids resist peer pressure.
- Remind your kids: Always ask yourself, "How would I feel if someone forwarded my photo to others?"
- Check school policy and local laws:
 - Be accurate in your conversations about the consequences of sexting.

What can we do?

 "Talk with your children and start early. Don't have one conversation on the day that you give them their first cell phone and think you're done. Talk to them often – have many different conversations over their childhood and into adulthood."
